A late Georgian harlequin gem set cluster brooch

A late Georgian harlequin gem set cluster brooch, with a circular mixed cut blue zircon, in a cut down collet at the centre. The zircon surrounded by assorted gemstones, to include a ruby, an amethyst, two sapphires and green and pink tourmalines, all in cut down silver collets backed in gold, with a gold pin and 'C' catch. 24mm diameter, 5.69g

Condition Report

There was possibly originally a pendant bale which has been removed. Slight facet edge wear to a couple of the smaller stones. Another zircon stone between the pink tourmaline and the ruby. 10.60mm x 10.40mm x 5.88mm.
